Compiling sets and assembly kits

For production, assembly or maintenance REYHER compiles sets or assembly kits of all individual components required. This does not only save the customer's picking efforts, avoiding mistakes and remaining quantities, but also optimizes processes, for example by predetermined packing sequences. Furthermore we offer serial number management and batch tracing for our customers if required.

■ Diverse item compilations for sets and assembly kits

Item compilation is generally based on part lists. The items can include catalogue articles as well as engineered parts. In addition we offer the pre-assembly of components into sets, for example. If required we also add packing lists, assembly instructions and even tools to the sets.
